Market Review

April was a positive month, with news such as FTSE Russell's decision to retain Malaysia in watch list until the next review in September 2020 dissipated some concerns. It acknowledged initiatives taken by Bank Negara to improve secondary liquidity of Malaysian Government Securities and provide better access for foreign investors. For a longer term, Bank Negara released its economy outlook and projected 2020 GDP growth at a range of +0.5% to -2.0%. This will be cushioned by the Prihatin stimulus measures that are estimated to add 2.8 percentage points to GDP growth. Meanwhile continuation of infrastructure projects such as MRT2, LRT3 and Pan Borneo Highway is expected to lift GDP growth by another 1 percentage point. Other key assumptions are oil price at US$25-35/barrel and CPO price at RM2000-2200/tonne. FBMKLCI rose 4.2% month-on-month in April, underperforming FBM Syariah Index and FBM Small Cap Index which increased 7.8% and 20.2% respectively. Ringgit appreciated 0.4% against US dollar during the month to 4.3. In the commodities space, Brent oil price recovered 11% month-on-month to US$25.3/barrel while CPO price dropped 13.1% to RM2088/tonne on weaker demand.
