Market Review

The FBM KLCI inched up 3.4% in July, driven by better sentiment across global markets. Investors react positively to BNM raising OPR by 25bps in July, although IMF cut its economic growth forecast for Malaysia to 5.1% from 5.6% previously as it warns of an increased risk of a global recession. The passing of the proposed anti-party-hopping law in Parliament is also expected to lead to better political stability in the country. More good news in July when Indonesia lifted its restrictions on the entry of its workforce into Malaysia and agreed to integrate the existing Malaysian and Indonesian recruitment system. On a year-to-date basis, KLCI slipped by 4.8%.
